Founded in Madrid in 1991, the Reina Sofía School of Music has become one of the best music schools in Europe, with a wide and prestigious international recognition regarding the training of young talents in classical music.

The School has been offering – for four years now – the ‘Music and Culture’ Summer Camp intended for 12 to 17-year-olds. Due to the health situation related to the COVID-19 pandemic, the 2020 edition will not be held in person, and the School is now providing an alternative online programme.

Students may choose between two programmes:

- Music and Fun, a musical immersion programme, with a combination of individual instrument classes and theoretical lessons as well as group and interactive activities related to music.
- Young Artists, designed for students of higher levels, it provides a programme enriched by ‘Building an artist’ workshops.

In both programmes, participants will be able to improve and develop their musical skills, in addition to having the possibility to create musical projects in groups and learn about body language with the best music professors.

Each programme will last 2 weeks, from Monday to Friday, with 4 hours of live online classes per day. Classes are supplemented by a permanent access to a platform with online resources and by individual practice time of the instrument.

The schedule of the live classes will be assigned by the School, depending on the instrument, in the 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. time slot (Madrid time, UTC+1), with breaks in between classes. In the case of the ‘Young Artists’ programme on 13-24 July, there is also an afternoon schedule available (2 p.m. to 8 p.m. Madrid time, UTC+1).
